Millions of British people travel to foreign countries on holiday every year. Many people go on package holidays with travel companies because they do everything for you. The company books your plane, train or bus tickets and finds you a hotel or a flat. In summer, many people go to places where the weather is warmer than in the UK. They go to the beach and sunbathe or swim. The six most popular foreign holiday destinations for British people are Spain, France, the USA, Greece, Italy and Portugal. Skiing holidays are popular in winter. Many people travel to countries like France, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and the USA to go skiing or snowboarding. Many people also go on more adventurous holidays, like wildlife safaris in Africa. British people like planning holidays and in winter in the UK there are a lot of TV programmes about holidays.

British people also have holidays in the UK. They go to the seaside to swim and sunbathe, or go hiking in the country. They stay at hotels, youth hostels, camp sites and caravan parks or in "self-catering" cottages or flats. Some people go on "activity" holidays and go rock climbing or canoeing.
